Átylla Kossatz

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

As a seasoned aviation professional, I have honed my skills in leadership and operations at a bustling international airport. My journey in the aviation sector has instilled in me a profound understanding of teamwork, problem-solving, and thriving in fast-paced environments. Embracing change, I recently relocated internationally, marking a pivotal shift in my career towards software development. This transition is fueled by my passion for technology and a continuous quest for learning.
